

The European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA) has formally adopted new measures on the provision of contracts for differences (CFDs) to retail investors that will affect how you can trade.

These new rules are designed to offer further protection to Retail traders.

In addition, new measures will be implement on the below

- 70% Margin Call (Previous was 50%)
- 50% Stop out (Previous was 30%)
- Negative balance protection on a per account basis, providing a guaranteed limit that your balance will not drop below zero.

Please find below a detail explanation of how the new leverage cuts will be implement
